SUSANNA MILES @SIMPLEBIGDAY.COM

Your Big Day, your wedding day, is supposed to be one of the most important, most memorable days of your life. You're in love, engaged, and totally psyched about celebrating with your closest friends and family. It's totally exhilarating! And now it's the time to watch your budget flutter out the window like a bridal veil in the wind. Or is it? Wedding Expert and Budget Wedding Blogger Susanna Miles from SimpleBigDay.com shares with you her method of wedding planning on a budget to help you create YOUR wedding YOUR way on ANY BUDGET. In each area of your wedding you have options and this book lets you weigh them up, rank them in order of importance to YOU and plan your expenditure accordingly.

Susanna introduces you to the SPLURGE, SCRIMP or SAVE method which can save you thousands and at the same time it will give you a wedding that looks like a million bucks. Have you ever wondered why all wedding sites and books seem to assume that each bride is exactly the same as the last? They assume that women all have the same priorities on their wedding day? If they do recognize any difference, they seem to shove us all into one of two camps: the wealthy or the poverty stricken. That is just ridiculous. What most brides want is the luxury to splurge on the things that are important to them, to scrimp on those that aren't and to save on whatever they can. Here's how Susanna helps you do that:

She gives you save, scrimp, and splurge ideas for every part of wedding planning so you can decide what makes sense for YOU and your budget.

She provides you with a special DIY recap at the end of the book with pros and cons for each project so that you can decide which ones make sense for you!

For each chapter in the book, she shares real life stories from wedding couples so that you can see what they did, why they did it and whether or not it will work for you. The Splurge, Scrimp and Save method can be used for every aspect of your wedding planning. It starts with setting a date and picking out invitations, to ceremony music and a wedding photographer, all the way through to reception food and beverages and thank you cards.
