Pauls account is genuinely funny, his characters are all very real, and the goings-on are right on the money. Brilliant! Books Monthly. With more people writing books than reading them, whod be an author? Four disparate, aspiring authors dream of getting their work published. As they strive for a breakthrough they are unaware that, in the world of traditional publishing, editors, agents and authors have enough problems of their own. The odds are stacked against success on both sides of the fence. The only person who seems to be doing well out of the writing game is the owner of The Write Stuff, a company selling how to get published help to would-be authors. Inevitably, all roads eventually lead to The Write Stuffs annual weekend writing conference. As the wannabe wordsmiths attempt to scramble on the up escalator to literary stardom, will they notice the tragic author of many years passing them in the other direction? As the conference builds to an explosive climax, whos going to start a new chapter in their life and whos going to remain stuck on page one?
